HENDRICKS REGIONAL HEALTH NAMES
DR. RYAN VAN DONSELAAR, DO, AS CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER

(DANVILLE, IN) – Hendricks Regional Health President & CEO Dr. Michelle Fenoughty has announced that Dr. Ryan Van Donselaar, DO, has been selected as the healthcare system’s next Chief Medical Officer, effective July 24, 2023.

"The Chief Medical Officer is crucial to maintaining the high-quality care we provide on a day-to-day basis," said Dr. Fenoughty. "Dr. Van Donselaar’s rich clinical and leadership background makes him an ideal fit for his new position. He has the benefit of familiarity with our medical staff, was a physician champion for our collaboration with the Mayo Clinic Care Network and understands our organization’s strengths and opportunities."

Dr. Van Donselaar grew up in Muncie and earned his medical degree at Des Moines University. He joined the adult hospitalist team at Hendricks in July of 2013 and was named Hospitalist Director in 2020. In addition, he has held positions of increasing responsibility in medical affairs, including chair of the Ancillary Pharmacy & Therapeutics committee and serving as a key member of the Medical Executive Committee. In his role as Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Van Donselaar will further develop and oversee the healthcare system’s clinical programs to ensure patients receive safe, high-quality medical care throughout the entire continuum of care.

Dr. Van Donselaar and his wife, Dr. Laurie Van Donselaar, DO, an OB/GYN with Westside Physicians for Women, live in Hendricks County and have three children, Elin, Nile and Otto.
